

Edgar Serrano

Originally from Mexico City, Mexico; Edgar Serrano has lived in the United States for more than 20 years. Edgar has a B.A in Business Administration and a Master of Arts in Modern Languages from Ole Miss. He teaches Spanish at The University of Mississippi and part-time at an elementary school called Oxford University School.

Before teaching, Edgar worked for a furniture manufacturer as Director of International Sales for Latin America, The Caribbean and Southern Europe. During this time he had the opportunity to train sales personnel in different countries around the world.

One of his favorites quotes is “Always do the right thing, always be exciting, always be encouraging, and always be learning something new.” from Zig Ziglar. Edgar is excited to serve the MFLA and to be of help to its members. Language and culture have always been part of Edgar’s professional and personal life.
